The Spotlight 1963 Edition

Published Annually by the Senior Class of

Clymer Central School

Clymer, New York

Foreword

When we first stepped through the open door of Clymer Central School, we stood awed and amazed at its greatness. We didn't realize then that there would be many other doors, big and little, which we would open during our stay of twelve years here. Soon all of the doors we have entered will swing shut, but we can always retrace our steps over their thresholds by opening this book. The members of the Class of '63 worked many hours to make this opportunity possible, because of the cooperation and hard work all of the Seniors put into this project, we now invite you to come along with us. Remember as you turn these pages that there are still many unopened doors in front of us, but none will be any more memorable than the ones we opened here.

Dedication

Mr. Harold Burgard

From the first time we enter the doors of Clymer Central School until we exit for the final time, we meet many people and make many friends. But there always seems to be one friend who attains a special place in our hearts, and that is Mr. Burgard. To us, he is not only the teacher who makes history come to life with his original illustrations, but the man who was generous enough to give his time to act as our class advisor for our freshman and junior years and direct our junior and senior plays.

We know that there were many more enjoyable things you could have been doing, Mr. Burgard, but we thank you for your time and patience. Because words cannot adequately express our appreciation, we "cabbage heads of '63" dedicate our yearbook to you, Mr. Burgard.

Board of Education

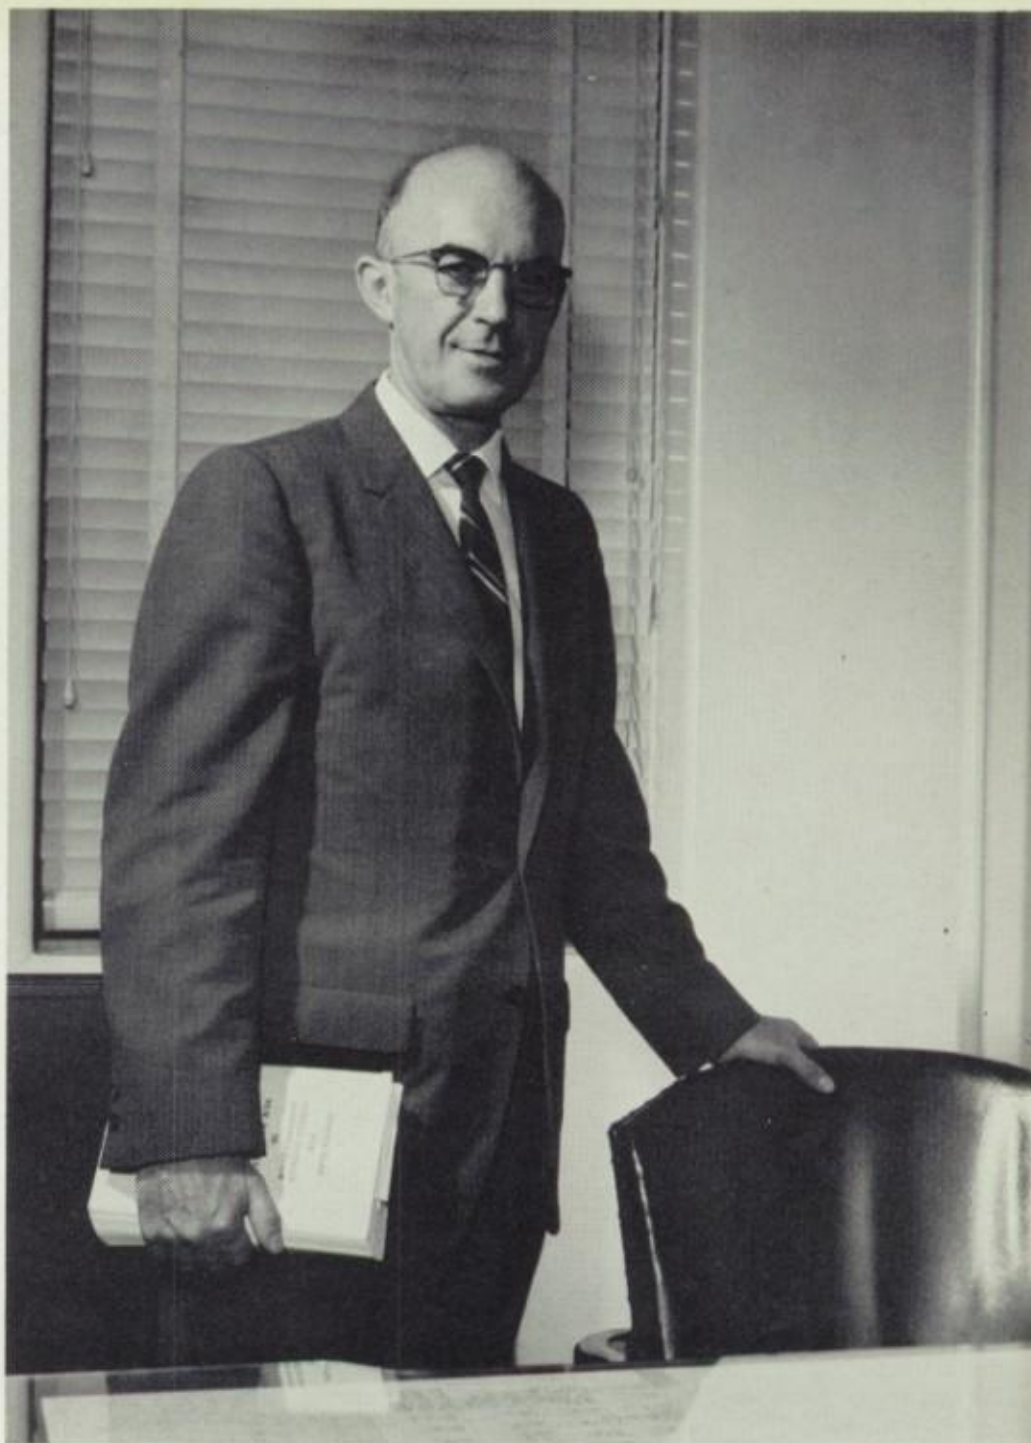

The Board of Education is a group organized to better the school and meet its problems. Although little recognition is given these men, the job they do is of great value to each of us.

These men meet once a month to talk over and formulate ideas as to how our school should be operated. In special instances, the Board is called upon to give permission for activities. Last year the group helped finance the Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom, and in so doing, added to the safety of the students besides giving them one of the most successful Junior-Senior nights ever.

The Board of Education strives for the advancement of educational methods and policies which insure the betterment of the school and those who attend. Outsiders know little about what they do, but the business they transact results in the smooth-running school system we now enjoy.

Our Pal Pia

Pia autographing books about Denmark.

Pia and her trivsak.

Pia and her birthday party.

Pia Dahl arrived August 19, 1962. She has answered many questions in our minds about the European ways of life. Pat seems to get along well with her new sister, and Pia has found her way into our daily lives as a fellow student. She has taken part in many senior projects and took a part in the senior play.

When Pia turned 17, the entire high school threw a huge party in her honor. As she cut the cake, she could not help letting a few tears fall, showing us how she felt, rewarding us at the same time with our efforts. We're sure that when Pia leaves, there will be a great vacancy in our school where once a smiling face filled in.

 Vice-President . . Ann Neckers
 Treasurer Fay Redman

The members of this club always try the newest dance to the latest popular hit. Their Advisor, Mr. Hurley, doesn't agree that it's dancing.

FUTURE NURSES OF AMERICA
 President . . . Shirley Willink
 Vice-President Rhea Rhebergen
 Secretary Anita Skuse
 Treasurer Betty Imhoff

The school nurse, Miss Lanston, supervises the regular meetings of the Future Nurses Club. This year they have purchased material and made "candy striper" uniforms that they wear while working in the Corry Memorial Hospital on Saturdays.

AMERICAN FIELD SERVICE
 President Pete Robinson
 Vice-President . . . Pia Dahl
 Secretary Kathy Miersma
 Treasurer Harold Jenkins

The A.F.S. Club, under Mr. Snyder and Mr. Moses' guidance, try to aid our Clymer Chapter. They helped bring an A.F.S. student to Clymer by selling community birthday calendars, sponsoring basketball game between the Alumni and bus drivers and sponsoring a busload of foreign students for a weekend the last of June.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

President Janie Kolstee
 Vice-President . Carolyn Zonjc
 Treasurer Glenda Sweet
 Secretary Rose Willey

As usual, Miss Byrson led her members through successful projects during the year. Not only did they increase their ability to be better future homemakers, but they benefited many others with such projects as collecting toys for an orphanage.

STUDENT COUNCIL

President Pat Hemink
 Vice-President . . . Bill Deuink
 Secretary Joyce Vrooman
 Treasurer Pete Robinson

Under the careful supervision of Mr. Brown the Student Council regulates school activities and all class projects. Each class elects three members as representatives, who voice the opinions of their class mates in each decision.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

President Rodney Watrous
 Vice-President . . . Ronald Porter
 Secretary Jerry Wiggers
 Treasurer Carol Cooper

The Athletic Association, enjoying the benefits of our new gym, now have a fat treasury to pay the referees of our games and other occurring expenses in the athletic department. These members must be ready for on-the-spot meetings for any decision which may arise.

MAGAZINE CAMPAIGNS

After a slump in the Fall Campaign '61, the '62 Campaign went over the top under the guidance of Chipper Long. The homeroom captains helped spur the salesmen on to sell above and beyond the quota. This year Jane Brown was high salesman.

YEARBOOK STAFF

All of those who worked on the yearbook in some way or other would be too numerous to mention in this small space. However, it was a pleasure for everyone to work with Mrs. Beuter. The Senior Class would like to thank her for her time and effort on our behalf.

SPORTSMEN'S CLUB

The members of this club found that Mr. Burgard's enthusiasm for hunting soon rubbed off on them. They all hope the time they spent practicing at the range will increase their chances of bagging big game. The rules they learned will help to make them safe hunters.

JUNIOR "MAD" STAFF

Under the direction of Donna Arnink the "Mad" staff published the school newspaper. Each month they turned out an interesting assortment of humor and school news.

The National Honor Society

President, Pat Hemink; Vice-President, Chip Long; Secretary, Sandy Greene; Advisor, Mr. Cowan.

Those who have been elected to membership in the National Honor Society have obtained the highest honor of their high school career. Students are selected by the Guidance Committee on the basis of Scholarship, Leadership, Service and Character. The Sophomore class is represented by three probationary members, Frances Legters, Diane Rothenberger, and Mary Lou Hutton. The members of the Junior class, Ronald Porter, Becky Mathews, Sandy Greene, Pete Robinson, Dan Brown, Stanley King, and Rex Proctor, were given permanent membership this year. Seniors, Pat Hemink, Kathy Miersma, and Norma Long have been members since their Sophomore year.

Future Farmers of America

The FFA, under the leadership of Mr. Bensink, participated in many varied activities throughout the year. This year they won the County Meeting Contest, a parliamentary procedure contest. They participate each year in the Tulip Festival, often with a winning float as well as a winning queen candidate. Other activities include crop demonstration, judging contests and participation in county, state, and national activities. President-Rod Watrous; Vice-President-Bill Ruslink; Secretary-Jeff Seblink; Treasurer-Stanley King.

"We Shook the Family Tree"

On April 4 and 5 the Junior Class presented their play, "We Shook the Family Tree."

Hildegarde wanted to go to the prom but no one had asked her. Her mother stepped in and fixed up a date for her with Freddie, who wore knickers. Bob and Jimmy, Hildegarde's brothers, didn't help in her desperate attempt to get out of going with Freddie. Sally, Hildegarde's faithful sister, tried everything to help her.

Ellie-May, Bob's heart throb, and Jill her friend, entered the scene and complicated matters. Mr. and Mrs. Dolson, Hildegarde's parents, were involved in a great deal of trouble by Paige, the little girl that Hildegarde baby-sat with. She played postman and delivered all the Dolsons' old love letters all over the neighborhood. More trouble was caused for the Dolsons by the Schermers, who were Freddie's parents and Mr. Dolson's employer.

Seven tulip candidates assemble after the ceremonies.

It was a beautiful year for tulips. The parade was the biggest ever, and there were the most candidates in history for the queen's crown.

The queen and her court impressed everybody with their bright smiles. They sang "Tulips and Heather" in a gay tone to make the Tulip Day festivities memorable to all. The contestants for the throne included Pat Hemink, Kathy Miersma, Cheryl Burroughs, Dianne Cooper, Shirley Willink, Judy Emory, Sandra Cole and Janie Kolstee.

“Now, Chorus, Sing for us !”

Under the direction of Mrs. Ten Huisen, the Senior High Chorus met on Tuesdays and Thursdays to practice their vocal abilities. The main highlight was participating in the annual Christmas concert, which included seasonal songs such as "White Christmas," "Three Songs for Christmas" and "Jesu Bambino." Under the direction of Mr. Van Patten, the chorus participated in the annual Spring Concert.

In June, the chorus performs for Baccalaureate and Commencement activities. A few members of the chorus represent Clymer in the All-County Music Festival held annually at Chautauqua.

"One, and-a two, and-a . . . "

The band, directed by Mr. Skowrya, has taken part in assemblies and concerts during this school year. They have played such numbers as "My Fair Lady", and "The Music Man". Besides these popular songs, the band has also stuck by the classical. They played the "Hallelujah Chorus" by Handel at the Christmas Concert and it was the highlight number. Some of the band members also had opportunity to play in the Music Festival at Chautauqua.

Because the band is largely composed of Junior High students, they are anticipating a larger and better band in the future.

Rompin' Pirates

Special effort was the key word that led to many of the successes of our football team this year. Much of the opposing team's spirit was riddled when our defense, led by Captain Jim Kolstee, stopped cold many hopes of success on our sparkling field. A splendid passing offense and a hard hitting fullback, Captain John Grden, smashed some of the foremost teams' defenses to carry our team near the top. After a brief but costly setback, our team broke through the web of predicted doom to post a 5-win, 2-loss record on the minds of other teams in the future.

Now as we pass through the final door, we think of all the times we looked forward to this occasion. We can remember events in our past which shaped our future into what we thought would benefit us the most. Our friends will never be forgotten, nor will the kind faculty which helped us through our roughest times.

PEACOCK INN

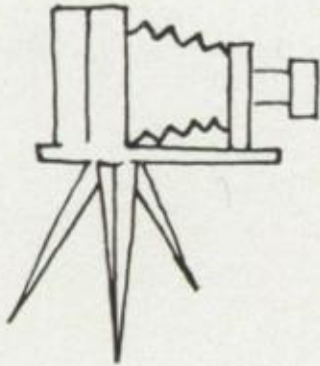

MAYVILLE, NEW YORK

In bygone days the Wayside Inn was a resting place for the weary traveler, who paused for a night's lodging, a meal or a refreshing drink. Here in a friendly atmosphere were discussed the momentous problems of the day. Though far in advance of the facilities of the old days, The Peacock Inn retains that same atmosphere, and serves fine cuisine in delightful, and cordial surroundings.
